

WEINGUT ROBERT WEIL

Founded in 1875, Weingut Robert Weil is considered to be one of the Rheingau's younger wine estates. It is located in the heart of Kiedrich, a village first documented in the year 950. Kiedrich Turmberg and Kiedrich Gräfenberg, the estate's top vineyards, are among the finest sites in the Rheingau.

The estate cultivates 70 hectares (173 acres) of vineyards, of which 98 percent are planted with Riesling. Today, Wilhelm Weil, the great-grandson of the estate's founder, carries on the uncompromising, quality-oriented vineyard and cellar practices that have been the hallmark of the winery for four generations.

ACCOLADES FOR WILHELM WEIL

- Michael Broadbent: "...the most consistently brilliant wine-maker in the Rheingau."
- Eichelmann Deutschlands Weine 2011: Highest rating (5 stars): "During the past decade, no one else has done so much for the reputation of Rheingau wines and for the renown of German wines in general as Wilhelm Weil."

2010 WEINGUT ROBERT WEIL RIESLING KABINETT

The Estate Kabinett is sourced from parcels that neighbor the estate's classified single-vineyard sites and is made to showcase the traditional, lighter style of Riesling (no Kabinett is made from the single-vineyard sites, only Spätlese and above). The deep and medium-deep soils consist of stony, fragmented phyllite mixed with loess and loam. The character of this Riesling, like all Robert Weil Rieslings, is defined largely by these mineral-rich soils.

2010 TASTING NOTES

The 2010 growing season in the Rheingau got off to a late start after a long, snowy winter. Cool summer temperatures and a wet September caused worries that the grapes might not ripen fully. But beautiful, sunny weather in October brought full ripeness, long hang time and extraordinary concentration to the wines.

Made in a medium-dry style, the 2010 Riesling Kabinett shows a fine mineral perfume and pure, spicy lemon fruit in the aroma. It is very finely balanced, with a silky, lingering finish.
